CHARLEEN GIRL ABOUT TOWN

I am filled to "overflowing" (to quote last week's Occupator) with local tidbits about Foggia's social life.

Speaking of last week's Occupator, I want to tender my thanks to the author of the report on the fashion show for two whole paragraphs. And I didn't even have to pay for publicity.

Back from Switzerland minus a few pounds and a practically streamlined figure is Charles Wovik of 529th. He told me he was going to give the All star team a break and go to Leghorn with them.

Seen in the Red Cross the other day wearing fatigues and the look of labor was sack rat Bob Wise.

Also back from Switzerland is Foggia's Sandstorm Mack-night. Does he have a club or doesn't he have a club? That is the question.

Worrying about morning roll call are Eddie Cohan and friend Tommy. Early to bed and early to rise, you know.

Saturday we said goodbye to the 55 pointers now. The manpower situation is liable to get a little desperate.

10 Three Pointers in Town

I hear there's a lot of new men in town who just arrived in this "land of romance". I'm anxious to meet someone who's been over here a shorter time than I have - you know veteran of four months to rookie of two weeks. Anyway here's a hearty welcome to the ten "three pointers" at the APO.

At this point I want to make an apology and renig the remark I made in last week's column about John Kellogg. My purpose is not to hurt anyone's feelings.

Due to some remark about cokes being potent these days last week's column also caused extra work for Sgt. Bill Gray. Instead of sending the entire paper with all his athletic accomplishments underlined home to his mother, he has to cut out alessaid column because he's afraid Mom will get the wrong impression about newly turned 21 year old son.

Who Holds Hands These Nights

Red of basketball fame and his ATS hearthrob were seen holding hands again at the Embassy Club after a recent scrap.

Homer "Questo" called up a Red Cross girl's apartment the other day and got the Group Weather Bureau instead. Anyhow, he found out which way the wind was blowing.

Cindy Gibson's and Bob Olivigni's engagement is now official. Congrats to both.

1535th Ordnance had a swlegant dance Monday night engineered by that very nice Sgt. Neal Percy and sponsored by the clubmobile gals My and Peg.

The Polka by Starbuc and Kayton

A really wicked polka was stomped out by Ann Starbuc and Irving Kayton.

Ask Jack Russell what he has five gallons of - and it isn't Chanel 5 dollars - the aroma is pointly V-O isk.

And now for some Christmas awards:
A holly wreath to Wolf about Town John Bowman
Tinsel to AES's New Announcer Bob Hiansley
Candles to Eger Beaver Eugene Cohen
Mistletoe to Switzerland returnees Ben Brummel Bo Orrell and Drug-store Cowboy Sandy.

A big Red Bow to that tall handsome blonde of the 121 A. F. Band.

Chow for now with a Merry Christmas to you all. Ma the New Year find you heading for the U.S.A.
